

Order Cancellation Policy

We process orders as quickly as they arrive, therefore, we are only able to accept Order Cancellations on the same day as we receive the order. Any cancellation request after the original calendar date of your order will result in a 10% cancellation fee. If the order cancellation request is after your product has shipped and tracking information is available, your cancellation request will be denied. At this point you will be referred to our Returns Policy and, in most cases, we operate on a non-returnable platform.
